COMPLAIN THE LAW IS BEING MADE RACKET

Taxpayers Think Pension Goes To Some Undeserving

WOULD PUBLISH LIST!

Growl Comes Following Taxpaying Recently—A Cure

Many a man and woman at tax-paying time last week gave considerable consideration to the Social Security Act and, while agreeing that, in instances where aged people who came well under the terms of the act, were entitled to all the protection the law afforded, complaints were there were, undoubtedly, a large number of chiselers who were making taxpayers support them and, since that time, one hears complaints on all sides and many individual pensioners mentioned by name who are getting pensions and who, according to the complainers, are not entitled to the relief they are getting.

Don't Go Too Far.

It may be quite true some, or, for that matter, many of the individuals complained of are taking advantage of the law, but that is no reason the act should be condemned.

What Is Needed.

The right method of procedure is to have the district attorney quietly investigate and, where a good case presents itself, start proceedings and set an example by securing a conviction and thus let it be known to others who would try to evade the true spirit of the law, they can not get away with it.

Not Publicity.

Some others are advocating publication of the names of all those who are receiving aid. However, such a plan would be subjecting those who are honestly entitled to relief to a measure of embarrassment, although they are simply receiving what they are entitled to, in an effort to try and catch those who were not.

As In Butte County.

By far the best way to handle the situation is that which is in progress in Oroville, Butte county, where District Attorney Joseph R. King at a meeting of the board of supervisors served notice on old age pension chiselers they are facing both civil and criminal prosecution for defrauding taxpayers of Butte county.

County May Recover.

District Attorney King declared it had been brought to his attention a large number have obtained old age pensions by

AGED LADY DIED

"Grandma" Princella Elder, of Laytonville, 94 years of age, died at her home in Laytonville Saturday. Mrs. Elder recently suffered a fall in which her collarbone was fractured and has been ailing since.

Christmas Services Sunday Morning

Christmas comes like a great magician, transforming the earth. The song of "Peace on earth, good will to men," that fell from a land where no war-cry ever disturbed the air and no cheek was ever wet with tears, will soften all hearts. The Christmas festival, dedicated to joy and happiness, will be celebrated at the Presbyterian church next Sunday morning. The service will begin at 11 o'clock. There will be special musical selections, one of which will be rendered by Jobs Daughters, who will be the guests of the church. The subject of the sermon by Dr. Van der Las will be "Why The World Keeps Christmas." Sunday school at 9:45 and young people's C. E. meeting at 6:30.

RED CROSS AIDS 3 FAMILIES—NEED STOVE, UTENSILS, DISHES

Chairman Burke Will Assist In Donations For Distressed

Chairman Harry M. Burke, of Mendocino Chapter of The Red Cross, accompanied by Mrs. Martha Toles were in the flooded section of the lower valley yesterday rendering relief to families who suffered by the recent storm.

Carried Long Way.

In one place Chairman Burke states the cabin of the distressed family was switched around and carried down stream a mile and a quarter where it went to pieces against the trunk of a large tree.

Twice Are Victims.

Another of the homes destroyed was occupied by a disaster-pursued family, it would appear. A year ago when the lands were inundated south of town the family was forced to cut a hole through the roof and from that part of their home the six occupants were later rescued.

Have You Any?

Chairman Burke and Mrs. Toles yesterday provided three families with bedding, clothing and food and are again today looking after the cases of other sufferers of the storm. Chairman Burke would appreciate anyone having dishes and cooking utensils they can spare sending them to Mrs. Toles, in order that the flood sufferers might have their supply replenished, having lost all of the cooking utensils and dishes when their homes were washed away.

Use Red Cross Funds.

Supplies of necessities were purchased this week by Chairman Burke, he scattering the trade among local stores and paying $100 for them out of Red Cross funds.

Ten-Foot Rise.

One of the homes washed away was on framework six feet above the ground and the water came up to a depth of four feet inside the front room, indicating a rise in the river at that point was 10 feet in a short time. Each of the families whose homes were destroyed consists of a father and mother and six children.

Highest In 29 Years.

At the Horst ranch Walter Witherell, who has been there 29 years, stated he had never seen the water as high as it was this week. A year ago, when the high water prevailed, the rise did not come to witihn two feet of what it did Friday and Saturday last.

LITTLE GIRL'S CASE IS DARK

Marietta Burnham Is Probably Never To Walk Again

Christmas time is coming along, and The Republican Press has been asked what has become of little Marietta Burnham, the small victim of a gun accident on Pine Ridge a number of months ago.

Was Treated Here.

It will be recalled the little victim was treated at Ukiah General Hospital a number of weeks and then sent to University of California Hospital, San Francisco, and there she has been all this time.

May Never Walk.

Recent advices are the child is slowly recuperating, but there is a fear she will never be able to walk again.

Want To Help Her?

Anyone wishing to do a kindly act for Marietta Burnham this Christmas may entrust their gift to The Republican Press and it will be certain to reach the little sufferer.

Accordionist To Play At Angelo's

Gino Del Guerra, who has the reputation of being one of the most gifted accordionists among the younger musicians of the county, will be at Angelo Pomo's Place, Calpella, Saturday evening where he will provide a program of selections.

EMPLOYE TOOK LIBERALLY OF STORES SALES

Cash Register Worked Regularly By New Clerk

COMPROMISED THEFTS

Estimated $1000 Loss Settled By Payment Of $500

There came to town a man who was rated a top-notcher in his line. He went to work and it soon began to be whispered about he was the last word in his profession. There was nothing anyone else knew he could be told. He, too, was not averse to letting people know he knew something about what he was doing.

Time rattled on.

Something Happened.

Then his employers began to suspect everything was not right. The cash register jingled frequently, goods appeared to be moving off the shelves in the usual way but, somehow, there did not appear to be as much coin in the till at the end of the day as there should be.

A Trap Was Set.

Action was decided on. A system of sales was arranged and a check made on the employe. It was discovered that, in one instance, almost 95 per cent of one sale went into the pocket of the employe and five per cent in the register, in other instances it was not quite so bad, but he ever looked out for himself.

Struck A Bargain.

When the evidence was convincing the clerk was called in and, in the end, he confessed. It was estimated, as closely as such operations can be estimated, the peculations had approximated $1000. The offender suggested he had an uncle who would come to his relief to the extent of $500, if that sum would obtain immunity from prosecution. The employer accepted the offer of the man with the itching fingers and he departed.

Yes, it happened here.

MAE AKERS IS BEING AIDED

Paralysis Victim Was Placed In Cast At Shrine Hospital

Nine-year-old Mae Akers is home wearing a cast from the waist down which was applied at Shrine Hospital, San Francisco, last Thursday, as part of the treatment for muscles recently affected by infantile paralysis. She will remain in the cast until February 17, when she will again visit the hospital for crippled children.

Many Are Helping.

In the meanwhile Dr. G. K. Abbott is co-operating with the institution by supervising her care while at home. A. H. Martin took the little patient to and from San Francisco, and this assistance, which he volunteered, is much appreciated.

What To Do.

Harry Carr, who has done much to interest the community in the welfare of little Mae, has recently resigned as chairman of The National Infantile Paralysis Foundation. Mrs. Karl Davis has taken over the post and is working with P. T. A., of which she is a member, and other service organizations to make the President's Birthday Ball on January 29 an outstanding success. Mr. Carr requests donations for the foundation in general, or treatment of Mae Akers in particular, be given Mrs. Davis instead of to him as in the past.

B. McKIERNAN CASE BROUGHT BACK BY SUIT

Queer Friendship Of A Spiritualist In The Limelight

OLD CLAIM RECALLED

How Does Minister Become An Heir So Frequently?

Any number of Ukiah people remember Bernard McKiernan, who for a great many years lived at Upper Lake and Bartlett Mountain. "Barney" was a shoemaker and he was in Ukiah frequently.

"Spooks" Got Him.

How it came about is a mystery, but, all of a sudden, Barney McKiernan became interested in spirits and then, in an equally peculiar manner he got to be a close friend of "Rev." James J. Dickson, a San Francisco spiritualist.

Had A Bankroll.

Barney McKiernan was a thrifty man and he worked all the time. He made considerable money and he spent very little and, accordingly, he had quite a sizeable nest egg.

Preacher Claimed Estate.

Sickness overtook Barney about five years ago and, soon thereafter, he died and, when it came time to settle the estate, "Rev." Dickson appeared on the scene and claimed the property and funds the dead man left.

Had A Will.

A will was produced and, low and behold, Rev. James J. Dickson was heir of the dead shoemaker.

Is Still At It.

Seemingly Rev. James J. Dickson has a bent for inheriting estates as will be seen by the following which lately appeared in The San Francisco Examiner: The Rev. James J. Dickson, spiritualist pastor who played a leading role in San Francisco's amazing "spook will" contest four years ago, will plunge into another will contest next week.

Fights Shrine Bequest.

This time he will go into the courts of Nevada and attempt to smash a will which leaves the bulk of a quarter-million dollar estate to the Shriner's Hospital for crippled children. He and his son, Milton, jointly contesting the will are represented by the

WILL DISPOSE OF THE STOCK

Securities Of Late Josephine White Will Be Sold

An order was issued in superior court last Thursday authorizing the executor of the will of Josephine L. White, a former Fort Bragg woman, to dispose of $15,000 worth of Union Lumber Company stock belonging to the $25,000 estate, which has been in probate since 1932. Mrs. White died at Fort Bragg December 1, 1932, leaving a holographic will which named Otis R. Johnson executor. C. M. Mannon was appointed appraiser and on May 19 filed his report showing real and personal property worth $25,117.

To Sell Stocks.

Securities earmarked by the court order are 1000 shares of Union Lumber Company common and 55 shares preferred, to be sold at $12 and $25 respectively, and 15 shares General Paint Corporation, to be sold at prevailing market prices.

AGED MAN DIED HERE ON FRIDAY

Henry Hackemeyer, passed away in this city Friday evening at the age of 72 years. He was born in Germany and had lived in this district 23 years. Funeral services were held at the Eversole Mortuary at 4 p.m. Monday, with Rev. Mark Pike officiating.

HANGMAN'S JOB DISAPPEARING, DIRECTOR SAYS

Old-Time Executioners Giving Way To The Moderns

INSTRUCTION NEEDED

New Men Must Be Imported To Teach Users Of Gas

Returning from a state prison board meeting last week Director A. R. O'Brien observed it would not be very long now before three or four men who have, for a great many years, enjoyed a monopoly in their line of work would be out of a job—and once they are out, they will not have a chance here to follow their careers again. He referred to the men who have been doing the executions at San Quentin and Folsom on the gallows.

A Small Costly House.

The new lethal gas chamber at San Quentin is rapidly being completed and, although it is not a large building, it will cost about $15,000 to construct it and equip it with the necessary facilities for executing murderers who must die along lines proscribed by the new state law.

Have To Be Shown.

No one in California has had any experience with lethal gas executions and it will be necessary to bring in some one from either Wyoming or Colorado to officiate at the first executions here. Men who have been in charge of executions in those states will have to be brought here to instruct Californians connected with the prison at San Quentin how the difficult job has to be handled.

Cannot Take Chances.

Gas is tricky and most deadly and no chances can be taken in handling the executions and, while the gas chamber at San Quentin is to be the

A RANCH DEAL BRINGS A SUIT

Potter Valley Farmer Is Dissatisfied Over Sale

J. B. McGuffin has filed suit to regain possession of a 45-acre fruit ranch in Potter Valley, he sold to Charles N. Bresee through a contract made May 1, 1936, for $6000.

Took Over Place.

The complaint states possession of the property was taken 15 days after the contract was signed. On the ranch at the time was personal property consisting of farm implements, chickens and miscellaneous articles Mr. McGuffin claims as his own. A considerable part of this property has been sold, he says, and outbuildings and fences destroyed through alterations made by Mr. Bresee.

Asks $1500 Damages.

Satisfaction is asked for the property sold and buildings and fences removed and damage claimed done a three-acre vineyard because of neglected pruning—in all $1500. Believing the purchaser intends to make further alterations and dispose of all the personal property, Mr. McGuffin asks to have Mr. Bresee's rights foreclosed and a receiver named to take charge of the ranch. A temporary restraining order was issued against Mr. Bresee December 7.

EPISCOPAL SERVICES

Eleven o'clock services will be conducted Sunday morning at Holy Trinity Episcopal church by Rev. E. H. Benson. Due to flooded roads Rev. Benson was unable to go to Lakeport to hold services as usual the second Sunday of the month at St. John's church, but will go there Sunday, December 26, instead.

Mrs. Mary Gullickson and Mrs. Kern, of Redwood Valley, were in town Monday.

"THE MESSIAH" WILL BE TREAT AT HIGH SCHOOL THIS EVENING

MAIL IS SLOW

Indicative of the slowness of the mail these days, correspondence for The Republican Press, mailed at Willits Saturday, had failed to reach here up to Tuesday night.

WILLITS HAS A FORWARD MOVE

Sidewalk Laying Was Carried On Extensively There

Special Correspondence of The Press
(Delayed)

WILLITS, Dec. 11.—Considerable mention has been made at intervals of the extensive public and private improvements that have been made in Willits this year. Spelatta & Siri, Santa Rosa contractors, have done most of the work for they have the best and latest equipment and they brought in crushed rock and washed sand in carload lots from below.

What They Did.

Among their jobs was the paving of about two miles of streets, 2000 linear feet of curbs and gutters, 12,000 square feet of concrete sidewalk, paving the entrance to the high school grounds and some other private jobs. The approximate cost of these improvements is $8000. Next year the city council has decided to begin on another large program most of which will be that of ordering sidewalks built on those lots between those which were voluntarily paved this year.

Put In Press.

A hydraulic press with 60 tons pressure is now being installed at the Rogers Garage. The press will be used on refractory gears, straightening bent axles and numerous other jobs that come up at short intervals.

To Buy Property.

A. T. Hawkins has about closed the deal for the purchase of the Porter house on Mendocino street in the rear of the Associated Oil service station. The property belongs to Jack Porter, who now resides in Oakland, and the transfer will be made as soon as the title is passed on.

Beverly Kenley and Doris Galyn, of Ada, Oklahoma, arrived here last week and will make their home with Miss Kenley's father, H. Kenley.

Drove While Dozing.

Ted Hayes, local young man, fell asleep while driving a truck just north of town early Wednesday morning. The truck turned over on its side and no damage was done. The truck is owned by Harry Peterson of Petaluma and was loaded with several tons of powdered milk from the Ferndale canned milk factory.

At The Hospital.

Nothing out of the usual is reported at Howard Memorial Hospital this week. A son was born to Mrs. Mildred Reyes of Covelo on the third and a daughter was born to Mrs. Diano Coty on the eighth. Myron DeCamp has nearly recovered from the effects of his recent operation. Charles Jones returned to his home in Lakeport a few days ago following an operation.

Wed In Ukiah.

James Powers and Miss Mabel Snyder, popular young people, were married at the Ukiah Methodist church Saturday. The charming bride was attired in an Oxford grey traveling suit. The groom is employed by the local power company and is a sterling young man. The bride is popular with members of the younger set on account of her winsome manners.

Used The Press—Rented The House

Mrs. B. E. Houdeshell had a furnished house to rent and, of course, placed a Wantad in The Press. Immediately she got a proper tenant. The case of Mrs. Houdeshell is duplicated every issue of The Press. Wide circulation makes success of Wantad users certain. The newspaper that carries the classified ads is the paper the people read.

50 Members Of Club Will Present Interpretation

The story of "The Messiah" as interpreted in music by Handel will be presented the public this evening at the High school auditorium at eight o'clock by the Ukiah Choral Club under direction of Robert L. Sharp, and several guest soloists. Admission is free.

Practiced Faithfully.

The half hundred members of the club have been practicing several times weekly to produce a cantata as polished as the two given within the past year, and warmly applauded by large audiences.

Some Fine Voices.

Guest artists are the same as announced last week with the exception of the soprano part, which will be taken by Miss Jean Williams instead of Mrs. Marie Adams who has been taken to a hospital due to severe illness. George Prall will sing tenor, Joel Carter baritone, and Mrs. Inez Wilson Wizer contralto. It is expected Robert Everhart, voice authority and teacher of several great artists, will be present to accompany the soloists who are his pupils.

DAUGHTER IN ACCIDENT, TOO

Mrs. Newton Hale, Nee Babe Caughey, Sustains Injuries

Frank L. Caughey who suffered severe injuries when he fell through a trap door into a basement in a downtown business house about a month ago is about, but it will be some time before he has recovered sufficiently to resume his duties.

Daughter In Accident.

A distressing feature of Mr. Caughey's misfortune had a reflection from the peninsula below San Francisco where his daughter, Mrs. Newton Hale, in trying to get away from a reckless driver, became involved in an accident.

Could Not Escape.

Mrs. Hale, who but a few days before had been here to visit her father, seeing an accident was inevitable when the driver of a car came directly into the path of her on-coming machine, sustained a broken bone in her foot, this occurring when Mrs. Hale put on the brakes in an effort to avoid hitting the machine ahead of her. Not only was Mrs. Hale the victim of the injury to her foot, but, as well, sustained two broken ribs and her automobile was hopelessly wrecked. In the meantime Mrs. Hale was treated at the hospital and afterwards returned to the Hale home.

Sister Injured On Napa County Road

Mrs. Helena Cox received word Friday morning her sister, Miss Theresa Kennelly, had been struck by a hit-run driver and left severely injured, lying in the gutter, on a street near her home in St. Helena, with a broken collar bone, numerous cuts, bruises and contusions. Mrs. Cox started immediately for St. Helena in the midst of Friday's storm to care for her sister and was accompanied by Mrs. W. G. Cox who was marooned in St. Helena until Sunday night when she managed to drive through to Ukiah.

2 Ukiah Men Were Marooned In Storm

George David and Ed Nay returned from San Francisco Saturday morning, having been forced to remain the night at Hopland where they found it impossible to pass due to the flooded highway. They left here the previous Wednesday, Mr. Nay to attend the races at Tanforan and Mr. Davis to look after business matters in San Francisco.

STORM RAVAGE VISIBLE OVER WHOLE COUNTY

District Will Suffer Greatly Through Road Damage

RANCHERS HARD HIT

Almost Nine Inches Of Rain Fell During The Storm

HOPE CHEST RESCUED

When the Riviera dance pavilion disintegrated upon the rising waters, some of its timbers beat against the fish hatchery and home of Superintendent West, tearing these structures from their foundations and causing their destruction. When the tide subsided sufficiently, the West family searched for some of its former possessions.. A dozen eggs were found intact in the pantry, though the house was considerably wrecked after floating several hundred feet. The hope chest of fine linens collected by Miss June West, since her recent engagement to Donald York, was found this side of where the bridge was washed out, its contents slightly soaked but not beyond repair.

RAIN DURING STORM

Measurements of precipitation taken by Ed. Hyden, who maintains a rain gauge at his home on Park Boulevard, show that during the late storm 8.65 inches of rain fell. This brings the season's rainfall up to 21.95.

A storm which treated Mendocino county residents to an unusual artillery of thunder and caused the sky to be brilliantly illuminated by a rainbow hue caused by lightning flashes visited this section Friday and throughout Friday night one of the heaviest downpours of rain recorded in years brought creeks and rivers to bank-full stage and soon thereafter the lowlands of all this part of the state were overflowed.

Lowlands Under Water.

In Ukiah the lower section of the city was under water before nightfall and many people were marooned in their homes. Chickens and other fowl sought refuge in trees and perches as high as they could reach to escape being carried away by the waters.

Talmage Cut Off.

The Talmage section was isolated from the countyseat. Round Valley was cut off from Redwood Highway by slides. At Yorkville water had overflowed the highway and traffic was suspended. C. D. Smith, county treasurer, started for the coast and, encountering Feliz creek on a rampage, suspected what he would find between here and the coast and turned back.

A Record Downpour.

No one could get to Vichy Springs because of high water near the bridge. Almost six inches of rain fell in 24 hours Friday, making a record that had not been equaled here in a great many years.

Took Hill Route.

A bad slide on the Hopland-Cloverdale road barred travel and a great many autoists resorted to the use of the old road over the hills between Hopland and Cloverdale.

Redwood Highway Open.

Although there were many slides all along Redwood Highway advices were the Highway was open all the way and cars were moving even during the fiercest portions of the storm.

The First Intimation.

The seriousness of the storm was first brought to the attention of local people when the Northwestern Pacific train due here at noon Friday became stalled by a slide near Pieta. No night train came through and city papers Saturday morn-

GIVE THE PUBLIC A BREAK

(The Santa Rosa Republican)

DIRECTOR A. R. O'BRIEN recently became the target for loud criticism from the rest of the Golden Gate bridge officials when he suggested the bridge toll be dropped to 30 cents, instead of 50 cents, to meet competition from the ferries. Sidney Taylor, Jr., traffic engineer for the district, asserted a reduction to 30 cents in the bridge toll would not result in any increase of revenue, but would bring a decrease of more than $100,000 annually. How can Mr. Taylor know anything of the kind? Everybody knows ferry revenue almost doubled immediately upon adoption of lower fares. But suppose the bridge would not gain anything in total revenue by dropping the price. The benefits would go for the most part to the people who are going to foot the bill in any event. After all, they are the people entitled to first consideration. They should be given the benefit of the doubt. Cutting the rate might double the revenue, but if it turned out the revenue would be less at a 30 cent fare than it is now at 50 cents, it will not take any longer to put the toll back up to 50 cents than it will to bring it down to 30 cents. The experiment is worth making.

BUSINESS VALUE OF DOGS

THERE IS A DOG SITUATION in New York City, says The Berkeley Gazette. Certain citizens who do not own dogs protest there are too many in the city. They say dogs are a nuisance and a menace. They want a law prohibiting dogs within the city limits.

The Dog Owners Protective Association opposes the law, asserting it is unsound, humanely and economically. One of their number writes The Times as follows: "If New York City is made dogless, the merchants will lose $75,000,000 a year that is spent on dog food and accessories. The bill, if passed, will cost New York a total of $250,000,000, when one considers all losses. Real estate men will lose apartment house and store tenants; dog hospitals and doctors will be forced to move to other cities; employment will be hit."

There ought to be some sort of compromise possible. It would be most unfortunate to precipitate an economic crisis in real estate and biscuits. And besides, who really wants to ban man's best friends?

NEW PRISON IN 10 MONTHS

CONSTRUCTION OF A REHABILITATION prison at Chino can be started within two or three weeks and a unit completed within about 10 months, if Attorney Gneral U. S. Webb renders a favorable opinion, Edward L. Abbott, prison board member, said at Santa Barbara last week.

Site for the institution is in litigation. The state can take possession of the property under bond providing the law enables the building committee of the state prison board to file condemnation proceedings in the name of the people, Director Abbott said. Attorney General Webb has been asked for a ruling and if he holds the committee has this prerogative, no time will be lost in getting work started. The first unit, a cell block and some administrative buildings, would take care of about 900 from San Quentin and Folsom. Only prisoners for whom there are hopes of reformation would be housed there.

Under a resolution adopted by the prison board a short time ago, when the prison is completed, Warden Clyde I. Plummer is to be transferred from Folsom and Captain W. J. Ryan will be named to succeed Warden Plummer.

MURDER WILL OUT

SOMEONE PERPETRATED a terrible crime in Marin county near Fallon during the latter part of October. A man was horribly beaten. Seasoned officers and detectives winced and turned away when they observed the gashes on the body of the dead man.

It was a crude murder, it is admitted by all, yet in its crudeness appeared the "perfect crime," says The Marin County Journal. Officers and those living in the neighborhood of Fallon have an idea — they think they know who murdered Benjamin F. Marshall. The murder may remain a mystery unless human weakness unwittingly reveals the truth that "murder will out."

SINS OF THE FATHER

I have never seen a man with blacker hair.

An eagle has no steadier eye than had this Indian.

It had not been my lot to have ever encountered so silent an individual. Added to his other strange peculiarities, too, was the fact that, while free, he rarely ever took a drink—Most California natives like hootch and cannot resist it. At no time while he was in the board room in San Quentin undergoing examination for having violated his parole did his conversation cover more than three or four words.

He had a deep-rooted conviction, I am sure, he was not going to get a square deal from us and though, in subtle ways, we tried to make him feel at ease, he manifested a supreme contempt for all our efforts. He was one of the strongest characters I have run across. I could picture him as being able to accomplish almost anything he started out to do. He reflected no vicious inclinations. He had a broad, high forehead; his nose was like that of pictures I have seen of Sitting Bull, the Sioux chieftain. His jaw was square and when his lips parted he displayed a fine array of perfect, white teeth. I could see he was a good man to let alone.

The Indian he killed hated him and he hated the man who became his victim. There were no eye-witnesses to the tragedy. Self-defense was set up at the trial. The facts showed he did not try to deceive his lawyers when he told his story of the killing. He would not accept any suggestion what he termed the facts of the case be toned down. He stood on what he said was the story as he first told it. The county in which the killing took place is not kindly disposed toward Indians. Had he been a white man, it is more than likely he would not have been convicted. To add to the disadvantage he labored under his father had, in years gone by, murdered the sheriff of the county in which his own trial took place and many pioneers were not backward about letting it be known the accused was a "bad Indian." There was no question but that the man killed was armed with a high-powered rifle. The murderer resorted to use of a small pocket pistol and was quicker on the trigger. The rancher for whom the slayer worked at the time of the tragedy has on file a letter in which he says: "He worked off and on for me many years . . . I consider him one of the best ranch hands I ever hired . . . If he had been a white man, I honestly believe, he would not have been convicted. Should he gain his freedom I will give him a job anytime."

Stripping the story of the crime of all the damaging features the prosecution got into the record and the mitigation the defense advanced, it was shown the accused Indian had never been in any serious trouble before. He had been pictured a surly and treacherous individual. His father, as I said earlier, had almost continually been in trouble and had killed the sheriff of the county in which accused was convicted. The prisoner in the board room had killed his enemy on a trail. He picked up the body and carried it a mile to a lake, at the same time packing the rifle of the dead man under his arm; he stole a boat and rowed far into the lake and, after weighing down the body with wagon springs, he dumped the remains overboard. A few days afterwards the corpse came to the surface.

That looks like a tough case, but, I really believe, if the prisoner's father had not killed the sheriff of that county, he would not have been convicted. To my mind it was a perfect bearing out of the admonition in the Bible and—

Punishment for the sins of the father descended upon the son.

WERE IN CITY

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Figone went to San Francisco Thursday where they stayed until travel was restored on the highway, when the storm and floods abated.

DAUGHTER IS SICK

Mrs. Mary McClellan was called to Martinez early Friday morning by the illness of her daughter Mrs. Dorothy Cureton and will remain at her bedside until she has recovered.

HERE TO PROTECT

Horace Kennedy, of the Division of Forestry, was here the past few days investigating alleged violations of the state law which prohibits denuding forests of shrubs and other growth. The Southern Pacific Co. has complained to the State vandals were raiding their properties of ferns and forest plants and Mr. Kennedy came here to investigate the complaint and others along that line. A rigid watch is to be maintained this season and hope is fern and wild growth pirates may be apprehended.

Former Resident Is A Paralysis Victim

Mrs. Jennie Bonta Potter suffered a stroke Friday at her home in Fort Bragg. It is presumed Mrs. Potter was stricken about noon, as when her son, Arthur, returned from school in the afternoon, he found his mother lying helpless on the floor of their home. She is being cared for by Dr. J. H. Lloyd of Redwood Coast Hospital.—Mrs. Potter is a former resident of Ukiah whose husband was a Western Union Telegraph operator here and who died in this city some years ago.

A SETTLEMENT BEING URGED

Efforts Are Made To Wind Up Affairs Of Fulwider Estate

In a drastic move to settle the estate of the late William I. Fulwider, counsel for B. F. Fulwider, trustee of the estate of M. A. Fulwider, deceased, and of Barbara Fulwider, secured an order of citation against the executor of the estate to appear December 24 and show cause why his letters of administration should not be revoked. The order suspends the powers of the administrator pending hearing on the citation.

Claims Funds Misused.

September 10 Wallace I. Fulwider filed his supplemental and final account. Exceptions were taken by B. F. Fulwider in the matter of the cash balance, which he claimed should be augmented by $585.60, the amount said to have been left by the executor with his attorney for safekeeping and converted by the attorney to his own use. The citation issued requires the executor to show why he has failed to reimburse the estate.

TRUCK-SEDAN CRASH SUNDAY

A collision between a south bound truck, loaded with trees for the Christmas trade, and a Chevrolet sedan, driven by E. Lomenick of this city, occurred at Scott and State streets Sunday at 7:30 p. m. The truck crashed through the General Petroleum and standard Oil stations at opposite corners of the intersection, temporarily putting one of the pumps out of use. No one was injured.

transferring their property to the children. He said the money paid to these persons could be recovered by the county by civil action against the parents, charging conspiracy to defraud the county.

Children Are Liable.

Criminal complaints could be filed against the children, District Attorney King said, charging failure of the children to provide funds for their parents when able to do so. "I am going into some of these cases,' District Attorney King told the board, "and when I find some of the more flagrant ones I am going to ask the board for authority to bring suits to recover the money. In this county a man can own a $6000 home and have $500 in the bank and still he and his wife can obtain $70 a month from the county."

Go Too Far.

District Attorney King charged this condftion was made possible because the state had used the pension act as a political football. "But when well-to-do persons transfer their property to chisel in on this act we are going to have to do something about it," he said.

Would Be More Liberal.

California "enjoys" the distinction of paying the highest old age pension per case of any state in the union, according to federal social security board in a statement to Finance Director A. E. Stockburger at Sacramento. This is gratifying news. However, there are some legislators who are not satisfied with the status of the pension set-up of the state and are planning even to increase the amount of payments by enactment at the coming legislative session, says The San Rafael Independent.

Figures compiled by the federal board set the average California payment at $32.50 monthly for each of 52,142 persons receiving old age benefits.

In Other States.

Colorado's payment is next, $27.50 for 24,419 cases; Massachusetts pays $25.01 to each of 35,843 persons; Ohio $24.97 to each of 90,868; Connecticut $24.80 to each of 10,578.

South Is Low.

Mississippi is lowest, $3.58 for each of 16,480 persons. The average payment is $18.67 monthly, according to figures available in 37 states. Ohio has the largest number of cases, California ranking fourth in that respect. New York's average is $20.97 for 60,822 cases, and Pennsylvania's is $21.64 for 48,011 cases.

Rainfall 22 Inches.

The approach to the bridge at Redwood station has been washed out a distance of about five feet. At Forsythe bridge the water barely grazed the top of the bridge. At the south approach there was an overflow of several inches. The area on both sides of the highway was flooded. The rainfall to date in the valley is recorded as 22 inches.

GOT AWAY

Wm. E. Zarr committed to the State Hospital last week on an insanity charge, broke from his room at the county infirmary Saturday and escaped to the hills.

Salmon Plentiful At The Lower Dam

Waters from heavy rains which drenched northern Lake and Mendocino counties have filled Lake Pillsbury to overflow, and for the first time in years has permitted Chinook salmon to reach the lower dam. Several good catches have been reported in the Mendocino section, mainly toward the coast, but for the most part waters are too muddy for good fishing.

Have A Grandchild.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brown are being congratulated over the arrival of their first grandchild, who was born in Ukiah General Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brown, Jr. The baby is a girl weighing five pounds and six ounces. Her maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. A. Grilli, of Ukiah. Mr. Brown has a position with Seaver Motor Co.

HAD BLOOD POISONING

Jack Crawford is recovering nicely after having been in a San Francisco hospital where he went three weeks ago, following development of serious blood poisoning in his arm. Mr. Crawford had a slight infection on his forearm which troubled him somewhat, but he paid no particular attention to it for several days, finally, however, he consulted a local doctor and, treatment not halting the spread of infection, he went to see a specialist in the city who ordered Mr. Crawford to the hospital and vigorous treatment followed.

P. McKIERNAN CASE

San Francisco law firm of Dinkelspiel & Dinkelspiel.

Claims Undue Influence.

In opposing probate of the will—that of William E. Price, electrical engineer who died in Reno September 7—the Dicksons allege fraud and undue influence by L. S. Reese, one of the witnesses to the will. Mr. Reese, cashier of the Reno bank which was named executor, is accused of imposing his own mind upon Mr. Price, of hiding him away from his friends, including the elder Dickson, and of inducing him to draw a will which eliminated the two Dicksons as beneficiaries. Rev. Dickson's appearance as a would-be breaker of the will puts him on the opposite side from that he occupied in the celebrated Bishop will case of 1933.

Sisters Cut Off.

Dr. Frank Bishop, optometrist, member of Rev. Dickson's spiritualist church, committed suicide April 27, 1932. His will cut off five sisters with $200 each, and left the bulk of a $50,000 estate to Rev. Dickson's newly divorced wife, Mrs. Gertrude Dickson. The sisters contested the will and had it set aside after a trial which made all San Francisco familiar with the "spirit guides" which Rev. Dickson produced for Dr. Bishop. The jury found Dr. Bishop, after considerable traffic with those spirits, was of unsound mind when he wrote his will and that fraud was involved.

Old Law Invoked.

Shortly afterward the grand jury indicted Rev. Dickson and his wife. The indictments accused him of violating a never before invoked section of the penal code, by aiding or encouraging Dr. Bishop to end his life. During the trial the charge against Mrs. Dickson was dismissed.

Charges Were Dropped.

In the case of Rev. Dickson the jury failed to agree, and after several postponements of the second trial the charges were dropped.

HURT BY SAW

Bob Summers, of Laytonville, received a very painful cut last week while working with a buzz saw. He slipped and caught his left leg in the saw, resulting in a cut several inches long above the knee.

WERE AT VALLEJO

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Dunegan were in town Wednesday from Cold Creek, having but recently returned from a trip to Vallejo and Oakland where they enjoyed a visit of several days with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. V. R. Wise were doing their Christmas shopping early in Ukiah Wednesday. Mr. Wise operated the Square Deal Garage on the Ukiah-Tahoe highway.

HANGMAN'S JOB

last word in such structures an instructor must be imported to give the executioner who is to serve here a schooling on how to handle his deadly work. There are now in the death houses in the two prisons some 18 men who must die, a few on the gallows but most of them in the gas chamber.

Five Sentenced Lately.

Five Folsom prison convicts, sentenced to die for the murder of Warden Clarence A. Larkin in the September 19 prison break attempt, became Nos. 61,173 to 61,177, inclusive, in San Quentin's death row only last week. The prisoners were once known as Fred Barnes, Robert Lee Cannon, Ed Davis, Wesley Eudy, Albert Kessell. They were placed in separate cells in the condemned block over which the usual night guard was ordered doubled. Their "neighbors" included such murderers as Albert Dyer, of Los Angeles ,WPA crossing guard, convicted of the rape-murder of three small girls; Captain Allen D. Boggs, of Santa Cruz, former army man who killed his wife; and Harry French, of Alturas, convicted of the slaying of a rival newspaper publisher there.

Chamber Beneath Them.

On the ground floor of the same block, construction is proceeding on California's new lethal gas chamber, by which murderers must pay the supreme penalty hereafter. The chamber will be ready in three or four months, prison officials said.

The date of the execution of the five men was not set because automatic appeals must be passed upon. Arrival of the quintet raised the "population" of San Quentin's death row to 15.

"GAY PAREE" MOTIF FOR B. P. W. C. MEET

To strains of "La Marseillaise" Business and Professional Women entered the Canton room of The Palace Hotel, Thursday evening, where they were treated to a captivating program entitled "A Night In Paris," the tour being personally conducted by President Louise Bernhard. A large table in hollow square formation was resplendent with silvered ivy and fir boughs, in striking contrast to tall red tapers and red berries interestingly grouped. The colors of France were represented by bouquets of red and white carnations and blue cornflowers. Baskets of madrone branches in lustrous silver and small trees shimmering with metallic rain were placed in the room, and the piano was banked with silvered ivy. Pamphlets and pictures of famous places in Paris were strewn along the table, and at each place a card gave the menu of consomme, salade de legume, bifteck, pomme de terre frite, petit pois, petit four, cafe.

First number was a description by Mrs. Mabel Smith of the glamorous opera house and a performance of "Tannhauser" there. Miss Angela Lucchesi, who has a delightful voice and charming presence, sang a selection from "Martha," and "Ahoy Boatman" as a fitting interlude. Mrs. Georgette Hengeveld was called upon to give an account of her impressions of the stores of Paris, her native city, which included a word picture of small specialty shops as well as large department stores, recently built, where one may have tea on the roof gardens and enjoy a panorama of the city. She also told of cafe tables along boulevard sidewalks. Procedure of choosing models and materials at Worth's, where no two gowns are ever made alike and none are ready made, was described by Mrs. Smith. Mrs. Bernhard told of finding fashions in New York, San Francisco and even Ukiah quite like those she saw in Paris. To illustrate modes of the moment, models gracefully circled the room to display frocks from local establishments. A trig hand-knit dress of deep red was shown by Mrs. Eloise Overby, of Emery's; a romantic evening gown of pale blue taffeta, embroidered in gold, with accessories of gold Juliet cap, evening bag and bracelets, from Clare's Dress Shop, was worn by Mrs. Karplund; and an enchanting gown of black net was modeled for Esther's by Miss Mary Morgan, red roses in her hair reflecting tones of the sequin embroidered bolero.

Miss Ruth Murphy chaperoned the group on an evening tour of the Latin quarter frequented by artists, through Montmartre district, home of the Apache and weird night clubs, and to the Bal Tabarin where cosmopolitan crowds gather at midnight. Cafe entertainment was typified by Miss Barbara Scott, gowned in fluffy blue net over silver, as she daintily poised a balloon in an acrobatic dance. The accompaniment was played by her mother, Mrs. James E. Scott.

Mrs. Bernhard presented a word picture of the Paris International Exposition stretching for three miles along the Seine, as seen from the Tour Eiffel, built for the exposition of 1889. The American flag led her to the United States building where, she confessed, she was overcome with nostalgia on her recent trip abroad. Music and electric displays were glorifying features of the Fair. In conclusion P. H. Joseph sang "Elegie" in French. Mrs. Mabel Ames Smith played piano accompaniments for vocalists during the evening. Chairman for the occasion was Mrs. Louise Bernhard, who was assisted by Mesdames Blanche Mineau, Minnie Jamison, Darline La Porte, Georgette Hengeveld and Miss Ruth Murphey.

At the short business meeting which followed plans for distribution of gifts to the needy by the Christmas Cheer committee were discussed. Those who did not bring their contributions to Thursday's meeting, may leave them at the storeroom of Vevoda Motor Sales Company. It was announced the amount voted by the Club toward the community ambulance fund had been passed, and the ambulance would be on display at the high school auditorium Friday evening when a program will be presented to dedicate it. Attending the club for the first time as new members were Mrs. Martha Barnum, Mrs. Opal Foster and Miss Althea West. Next meeting January 6, will have as its theme pioneer days of Mendocino county.

CLUB PLANS PLANTING TOYON SHRUBS

The jolly spirit of Kris Kringle permeated the Kosmos Club Christmas party Thursday afternoon at the community clubhouse, group singing of carols by assembled members sounding joyously through the hall. Mrs. Anna David, president, found her desk attractively decorated with a row of lighted red candles held in apple sconces set between sprays of English holly, as designed by Mrs. J. Q. White.

Conservation of Christmas trees and shrubs, such as fir and toyon, and arrangement of Christmas decorations were discussed by Mrs. White. Following the trains it was agreed each member would plant a toyon bush along the highway, the shrubs having been grown from seeds for this purpose a few years ago.

Refreshments were taken to small tables from a long buffet table holding vases of holly, plates of fruit cake, coffee and bowls of colorful candies flanked by silver trays of apples and popcorn balls. An exchange of gifts which had been heaped beneath a gayly ornamented tree upon the service table, concluded the program . Assisting Mrs. Maud Elledge, chairman of arrangements, were Mrs. Edna Holliday and Mrs. Kathryn Parker.

BENEFIT PARTY SUCCESS

All who attended Kewanna Council, Degree of Pocahontas, benefit card party at Steiert Hall Thursday evening voted it a great success. More than two score were present to enjoy the entertainment. Whist prizes were awarded Mrs. E. M. McCorrison for high score, Ben T. Thornton for second, and P. J. Boring for third; Mrs. Nate Morris won first prize in Pedro, Mrs. Don Crinella second, and W. C. Freeman third. Greenery and toyon berries were artistically arranged in the main hall and banquet room, giving a holiday touch to the affair. Dancing to violin and piano music furnished by Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Carlson formed diversion of the latter part of the evening and refreshments of sandwiches and coffee were served. Arranging the party were Mrs. Veda Collier, chairman, and Mesdames Minnie Sweeney, Georgia Carlson, Elise Figone and Anne Miller. The annual joint Christmas party of Redmen and members of Kewanna Council, Degree of Pocahontas, and their families will be held Tuesday evening, December 21, at Steiert Hall.

FACULTY DINNER MEET

Teachers Club dinner at The Maple Cafe Wednesday evening was carried out in merry Christmas motif. The 12 members present were seated at a square table prettily decorated with holly berries radiating from the center and encircled by a ring of red candles. Place cards were made by Mrs. Ida Fuller's third grade class and gave the effect of embossed lighted candles in pretty colors. Written on each was a clever couplet composed by Miss Barbara Stewart in mirthful spirit. Present were Frank Zeek, principal of the grammar school, Mrs. Bess Butz, Mrs. Hazel McCowen, Mrs. Iva Mellis, Miss Alyce Finne, Miss Elizabeth Ryder, Miss Violet Elliott, Miss Hulda Wenglein, Miss Kathern Macklin and the hostesses, Mrs. Ida Fuller, president, Miss Barbara Stewart, vice-president, Miss Grace Toles, treasurer.

WILSON HOME SCENE OF A HOLIDAY DINNER FOR 12

A real old-fashioned holiday dinner for 12 was enjoyed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Wilson Sunday evening. Red candles and glossy holly decorated the tables where lavish provender was spread. Sucullent slices of roasted wild goose, tender and steaming, were served as the main dish. The birds were brought from Oregon by the host and hostess following Mr. Wilson's recent hunting trip there, and kept in cold storage until the date of the feast. An evening of visiting before a crackling fire in the living room followed dessert, with an interesting exchange of hunting experiences and accounts of flooded areas as seen first-hand in the two counties the past few days. Included in the pleasant gathering were Mr. and Mrs. Irving M. Brazier, Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Sandelin, Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Bosworth, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Thornton.

TO LIVE IN PORTLAND

Mrs. Ray Rollin Wilson has just received word from her husband he has been put in charge of establishing an office for the Agricultural Trade Relations Company at Portland, Oregon, and that he is to supervise work for the firm in that state. This is a splendid advance and comes as a reward for his services for the organization he joined less than six months ago. Mr. Wilson has traveled up and down the coast and as far as Texas during the fall, but now that he is to have his headquarters at Portland he will establish a home there soon after the first of the year for Mrs. Wilson and their two daughters. The Wilsons will be greatly missed in this community. Mr. Wilson was for years principal of the local grammar school and Mrs. Wilson has been active in club and church work, contributing graciously to many programs with beautiful vocal solos.

RITUAL INSTRUCTION

School of Instruction for Jobs Daughters was held in San Francisco Wednesday of last week, 15 Bethels being represented, including that of Ukiah. Edifying ritualistic work was demonstrated at Park Masonic Temple for guardians. Representatives from Ukiah were Mrs. Irving M. Brazier, Mrs. Walter Sandelin, Irene Sandelin and Christine Smith. At installation exercises of the local unit in January, Irene Sandelin will take the post of Senior Princess and Christine Smith that of Guide.

CIRCLE C ELECTS

Circle C held its last meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. Frank M. Wilson Wednesday afternoon. Financial report at the business session was highly satisfactory. Officers of the past year were re-elected for 1938, namely: Mrs. Belle Wilson, president; Mrs. Arthur Bradley, secretary; Mrs. Jule Stipp, treasurer. Holly berries and red candles decorated the rooms in Christmas theme. Following an afternoon of sewing, delicious refreshments were served in the dining room.

TO SEE WHITE CHRISTMAS

Mrs. C. A. Carlson and her daughter, Karina, left Sunday for Elgin, Nebraska, where they will pass the holiday season with Mrs. Carlson's mother, Mrs. Fred Howe. It is eight years since the two ladies have seen each other and the visit will make this Christmas an especially enjoyable one. Karina is looking forward to meeting her grandmother and to being introduced to a snowy winter.

TELEPHONE BRIDGE

Mrs. Bayard Shields will entertain ladies of the Telephone Bridge Club at a bridge-luncheon at her home tomorrow afternoon. Mrs. Harry Hansen was hostess to the group last week at which time Mrs. Olin Slocum held high score.

V. F. W. POST AND AUXILIARY YULE PROGRAM

Veterans Memorial building will be the scene of a lovely family party Saturday evening, when Veterans of Foreign Wars, Auxiliary members and their children gather for Christmas games and dancing. The party was originally planned for Friday, but has been postponed to the following evening. A large and beautiful Christmas tree in dazzling array will be an important part of the decorative scheme, arranged by post members. Committee planning the evening's activities comprises Mrs. Lillian Tatman, chairman, Mrs. Angie Wallach, Mrs. Sarah Mason, Mrs. Hilda Groves, Mrs. Ethel Ruddick, who will serve delicious refreshments.

TUESDAY BIRTHDAY FETE

Eleven youngsters enjoyed celebration of Betty Lou Roberts' eleventh birthday at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Roberts, yesterday afternoon. Games and the singing of Christmas carols sped the happy hours. The young honoree was recipient of many presents. Spirit of the holiday season was emphasized by decorations of red and gold. The refreshment table held a centerpiece of Holly in a gold basket and gold bells were placed about the table. At each place was a red bonbon basket and a rotund Santa Claus made from an apple with a marshmallow head. Enjoying the day with Betty Lou were Janet Lowe, Lenita Hughes, Patsy Pike, Helen Smith, Julia and Frances Robuson, Joyce Davis, Virginia Phillips, Betty-Lou Banks and Joan Roberts, sister of the honored guest.

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY FETE

Ferdinand Valette was guest of honor at a delightful surprise dinner party, planned by his parents and served to a score of friends at the family home on West Smith street on the occasion of his birthday. Holly berries decorated the festive table where such savory dishes as whole roast pig, chicken pie and a be-candled cake par excellence were served. Dancing was enjoyed the latter part of the evening. Greeting Mr. Valette at the party were the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Valette, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fullerton, Mr. and Mrs. John Venturi, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Perata, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mineau, Mrs. Alice Tracy, Miss Clara Williams, Miss Lucille Hansen, Miss Marcelle Valette, Carl Daubeneck, William Harris and Bob Giannoni.

V. F. W. FETED TATMANS

A surprise housewarming was given Mr and Mrs. A. A. Tatman at their lovely new home at Jones and McPeak streets Saturday evening by members of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post and Auxiliary. A handsome floor lamp of the reflector type was presented the host and hostess. Following an evening of cards delicious refreshments of sandwiches, cake and coffee, provided by those planning the surprise, were served.

"CHRISTMAS IN SONG AND STORY" THEME OF CULTUS MEET

A very beautiful Cultus Club program of "Christmas in Song and Story," planned by Mrs. Annetta Myszka and Mrs. Katherine Harvey, was held at the charming home of Mrs. Barbara Taylor last evening. Unison singing of age-old carols was followed by the story of their origin, as told by Mrs. Myszka. Accompaniments were played by Mrs. Harvey on an old organ of mellow tone, brought down for the occasion from the attic where it had been stored by Mrs. George Sturtevant, aunt of the hostess. "He Shall Feed His Flock Like A Shepherd," was the lovely solo from "The Messiah" by Handel, sung by Mrs. Myszka. A reading of "The Gift Of The Magi," by O. Henry, introduced another beautiful thought and was presented by Mrs. Harvey. The final number was a vocal selection by Mrs. Myszka, who sang "Cantique de Noel" (O Holy Night).

A stately silvered fir tree hung with ornaments was surrounded by gifts, later distributed in an exchange. Holly, pine cones and boughs were artistically arranged throughout the rooms, and there was a smal figure of Madonna and Child lighted by candles.

Holiday theme was carried out in the dessert, which followed chicken pie and coffee, a small tree of green sweets atop a mound of ice cream accompanied by fruit cake being served each member. Guests were seated at a large table for 12 and several smaller tables, each being decorated with snow scenes featuring Santa and his sleigh.

JUST FOUR YEARS OLD

Little Ruth Parsons, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Parsons, was guest of honor at a very happy birthday party prepared by her mother Wednesday last. The children played games and sang songs to their hearts' content. Various lovely gifts were received by Ruth, who was thrilled with the gayety of the celebration. The refreshment table was prettily decorated with red rosebuds and a delicious white cake was iced in green and topped by brightly glowing candles of the same color. Guests were Donna Wildberger, Nancy Harp, Alice Goudge, Dirk Wildberger, Gordon Gielow, Billy Hovey and Lester Sacchi.

Miss Betty Brazier will try to squeeze a moment in between final examinations at the University of California to join the family party. As the Myron Braziers will be north at Christmas, this week's meeting is to take the place of a holiday reunion.

FOUR HORSES ARE DROWNED

Animals Perished In Storm In The Section Of Pieta

(Special Correspondence of The Press)

HOPLAND, Dec. 14.—The card party given at Guild hall Thursday evening by ladies of the Guild, was well attended, despite the inclemency of the weather. Door prize was won by James Maloni. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

Mrs. Vera Deans, of Los Angeles, is a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Buckman.

Is Storm-bound.

Mrs. W. C. Peters, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. C. Danielson, motored to San Francisco Wednesday. Mrs. Peters, who was to return Saturday, has not been able to make the trip home, due to the havoc to the highway caused by the recent storm.

Mrs. J. P. Hill has returned to Oakland where she will pass the winter months.

Many Are Joining.

At present 67 students have enrolled in the Hopland night school. December 14 a class in public speaking will start, classes to be held at the library in the evening from 7:30 to 9:30.

Called On Friends.

Mrs. E. M. Banks and Mrs. Mary Joslin were down from Ukiah Sunday afternoon and called on friends and relatives in McDowell Valley.

Worst In Years.

Hopland was completely isolated Friday night and Saturday during the recent unprecedented storm, the worst in Sanel Valley in 42 years. The new Highway bridge at Pieta was impassable, the river spread from town to the turn near old town, bridges were submerged on the old road, making it impossible to get to the new Highway bridge south of town; the River road was covered with water at places between old town and the Large bridge where the approaches washed out and the bridge settled, making it unsafe for travel. All the houses in town east of the railroad track had to be vacated as the water was three feet deep in most of them. Rood's store was filled with water, causing damage not yet estimated. The new home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Crittendon floated down Feliz creek and landed in the Vella field, with furniture scattered on both banks of the creek. The house was unoccupied, as the Crittendons are passing the winter in the Bay region. Many small bridges were washed out, making it impossible for ranchers to get to town. The mail came by truck Sunday afternoon, the first since Thursday. Several horses were drowned at Pieta.

The Family Escaped.

One family living on the Pratt ranch had to leave their house at 10 o'clock, getting in their automobile and driving to high ground, where they passed the night in the machine, the creek running through the house as they left.

A Close Call.

Mrs. Paul Henon, who resides with her family on the Hopland mountain summit, miraculously escaped fatal injuries when her car skidded on the frosty highway and went over a 100-foot embankment on the Hopland grade road. She escaped with minor bruises and shock. The car was not badly wrecked even though it turned over several times. It was hauled back onto the highway by a wrecker and towed to Lakeport for repairs.

Joseph Kunzler has recovered from an attack of influenza.

LONG AGO HAS REFLECTION OF QUEER EVENTS

Willits Man Has An 1825 Paper Full Of News Events

NAVY NEEDED $30,000

Government Cost Less In A Year Than In A Day At Present

Special Correspondence of The Press

WILLITS, Dec. 14.—A copy of The National Intelligencer, which was published at Washington, D .C., February 12, 1825, has been in possession of the Washburn family for five or six generations and naturally is yellow with age but the quality of the paper is far superior to that of the pulp paper on which all newspapers are now printed. It is a four-column folio and the standard size of most six-column country papers but the columns are wide and three columns of The Press about equals two in The Intelligencer. The paper was published three times a week and about two-thirds of its space is devoted to the proceedings of Congress.

Advertising Different.

There is no display advertising such as the modern papers carry and what few ads there are correspond to the classified departments of our papers.

Lotteries Advertised.

Among these advertisements are notices of three lotteries—those of the state of Maryland, Pennsylvania canal and New York. There are also rewards offered for return of three runaway slaves. Three deaths and one marriage are reported.

Election Of Adams Told.

The leading news story told of the election of John Quincy Adams for president of the United States by Congress. Three candidates were balloted on: John Quincy Adams, Andrew Jackson and Henry Crawford. Mr. Adams received 87 votes, Mr. Jackson 71 and Mr. Crawford 54. One member was absent on account of illness.

Just Like Now.

To show human nature, local jealousies and politics were very much the same then as now we quote a short summary of the proceedings of Congress. The first item on the Senate calendar: "Mr. Clayton presented the petition of Catherine Black, widow of Richard Black, a Revolutionary War soldier, praying for a pension. Mr. Noble introduced a resolution asking relief be given John Johnson of Indiana for two erroneous entries of public lands. Mr. Eaton presented a petition of John Donley praying for payment of a claim against the postoffice department for carrying the mail. The Senate then proceeded, as in committee of the whole, to the consideration of the bill to amend the Judicial system of the United States, and to provide for three additional circuit judges. On motion of Mr. Marvin of New York, it was resolved the committee on Revolutionary War pensions be instructed to inquire into the propriety of placing Gideon Ball

H. G. RIDGWAY TO SLOW DOWN

Popular P. G. & E. Official Must Go To Warmer Climate

(San Rafael Independent)

Harry G. Ridgway, Northbay Division manager for the Pacific Gas & Electric Company, president of the Shoreline Highway Association and one of the most active leaders in Redwood Empire Association activities will close his desk in the San Rafael offices of the utilities company Friday for a long rest and a journey to warmer climes in the hope of benefiting his health which has been poor for some time past.

Goes To Arizona.

Accompanied by Mrs. Ridgway and their son, Mr. Ridgway will go to Phoenix, Arizona, where he hopes the warm, dry, high altitude will restore him to full health and vigor and overcome effects of physical hardships he endured as a younger man while working in the quartz mines.

Away Four Months.

Mr. Ridgway, who is also president of Ross Hospital Association, owner of the Ridgworth Dude Ranch on Eel river and as a horseman a member of the celebrated San Francisco Sheriff's Mounted Posse, expects to be away from San Rafael about four months. His absence will cause no changes in personnel nor disruption of operations of the P. G. & E. in the northbay counties where he has been the company's No. 1 man many years.

Death Has Taken Old Coast Figure

Thomas Ellison died in Fort Bragg Thursday morning as he slept. "Tom" Ellison was particularly well known to the people of the coast section where he established himself on the present Eggers ranch 50 years ago not long after coming to the United States from his native Norway. He was industrious and had initiative and it was not long before he was getting out ties and improving his farm. Mr. Ellison was 78 years old. He came to Mendocino county 55 years ago and for 46 years had been a naturalized citizen of this country and was intensely loyal to the country of his adoption.

Wife's Drinking Brings A Divorce

Habitual intemperance wrecked the married life of Giles and Cynthia Hempstead in six months and 11 days, Mr. Hempstead says in a suit for divorce filed last week through the law office of J. C. Hurley. The Hempsteads were married at San Diego. The wife's indulgence in strong drink was so immoderate as to cause him great mental anguish, the husband declares.

TO RUN AGAIN

(Santa Rosa Press-Democrat)

State Senator George M. Biggar, who represents Mendocino and Lake counties will, friends say, be a candidate for re-election. Senator Biggar worked hard at the 1937 session in the framing of the labor relations act which would promote settlement of labor disputes, particularly in the harvesting of crops, by arbitration and agreement. He has always taken an active interest in road and highway matters and in the promotion of public welfare. His colleagues speak highly of Senator Biggar.

MORE SERIOUS CASE DROPPED

Driver Avoids Drunken Driver Charge In Justice Court

James A. Wheeler was tried before Justice J. W. Woodruff, of Laytonville, on a charge of drunken driving. It will be recalled a man who was riding with Mr. Wheeler at the time the charge was made, died two days later in Howard Memorial Hospital, Willits, however a coroner's jury exonerated Mr. Wheeler from any blame for his death, the autopsy showing the man died from pneumonia.

He Was Reckless.

Judge Woodruff in rendering judgment in the case, said there was not, in his opinion, sufficient evidence to warrant a conviction for drunken driving, but the evidence did show the defendant had driven on the highway in a reckless manner and found the defendant guilty of reckless driving and fined him $25.

Coast Widow Is To Be Administratrix

Mrs. Cora Forster of Fort Bragg has filed her petition for appointment as administratrix of the estate of her husband, the late Miner G. Forster, who died December 1. The value of property, comprising the husband's interests, is estimated to not exceed $2500 and heirs besides the widow are two sons and one daughter, Everett, Russell and Dorothy Forster, all of Fort Bragg.

MRS. L. C. BROWN DIED SATURDAY

Pneumonia Fatal To Local Woman After Short Illness

Mrs. Lona Capwell Brown, 76, passed away at 1:30 a. m. Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Snyder on North Pine street, following an attack of pneumonia.

Came From Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Brown came here 15 years ago from Pennsylvania to join her brother, William H. Capwell, who passed away in 1926. For 10 years Mrs. Brown was housekeeper at The Palace Hotel, and for the past few years has made her home with the family of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Snyder, who came to Ukiah from Pennsylvania a few years after her arrival here.

A Fine Personality.

The dead lady was a refined charitable, Christian character and unselfishly she aided any worthy cause that came to her notice. Hers was a most gracious disposition and her fine sense of humor permitted her to see the little flaws in others and overlook them.

Lodge Named For Her.

Mrs. Borwn had the distinction of having "Palona" Chapter of Rebekahs at Factoryville named after her when it was organized while she was still a child, her father being a charter member of Odd Fellows there and very active in the work. While here Mrs. Brown attended Cornelina Rebekah Lodge No. 205.

Last year she keenly enjoyed motoring to Pennsylvania where she renewed old acquaintances in company with Mr. and Mrs. Snyder and Miss Daisy Rodgers.

Was Buried Here.

Dr. Richard A. Van der Las officiated at the last rites held Monday at 2 p. m. at Eversole Mortuary. Vincent Giorno sang "Some Golden Morn" to the organ accompaniment by Mrs. Gladys Ritchey. In Institution Three Years.

The aged woman has been a patient at the hospital since January, 1935. She will be retried, Sonoma county officials state.

Billings, convicted of murder with Thomas J. Mooney in the 1916 Preparedness Day bombing. Mr. Webb has been attorney general for 35 years.

Defended S. Bassetti.

The first Mrs. Lomenick is now a resident of Bakersfield.

FAMOUS PAIR LOVE COUNTRY

John L. McNab And G. A. Sturtevant Like Mendocino

(Herbert W. Slater in The Press-Democrat)

John L. McNab, prominent San Francisco barrister, comes up this way every once in a while to visit his big farm in Mendocino county. He never fails to stop in Santa Rosa for a call on his old friend, A. Bacci. The latter has just recovered from a four months illness which kept him at home. When Mr. McNab and the late Maurice Hirsch first hung out their shingle in the law game in Ukiah, Mr. Bacci was their first client and this started the friendship which has been warmly maintained.

Has Same Yen.

Another visitor who also comes along once in a while and still retains a liking for this section of the state is Appellate Justice George A. Sturtevant of San Francisco. He owns a farm in Mendocino county.

There's A Difference.

Doubtless Mr. McNab and Judge Sturtevant have long since passed the time in their farm ownerships when, as the late Congressman John A. Barnham once explained, "An agriculturist is a man who makes his money in town and spends it in the country, while a farmer is a man who makes his money in the country and spends it in town!"

BAD NIGHT FOR THE GOOD SHOW

When senior thespians of Ukiah high school chose "It Won't Be Long Now" to present Friday evening as the class play, they were unaware it might have meant shortly they would be trying in desperation to prepare by candlelight for a delayed opening act, without an orchestra in the pit to lull the audience into happy anticipation of their performance. Moreover, with a fine advance sale of tickets, they could not have foreseen those anxious moments of wondering if anyone would care to come out in such a downpour.

Like real troupers who knew "the show must go on" they overcame all obstacles caused by the flood. Lights finally came on, the auditorium was almost filled, and the curtain went up on a highly entertaining performance. Bradford Wilson, as Robert Preston, carried on the family tradition of not mixing sentiment with business, but disposed of his fortune in a day when he learned he had but that long to live, his sudden thought of others causing comical complications.

All ended happily, however, with Arzelle Dennen as Ann Winston consenting to marry him. Between acts Mrs. Evelyn Ellers, coach, whose work was well applauded, was presented a beautiful bouquet of roses by Jean Thornton on behalf of the cast. Mr. Sharp announced there was no music because "half the violins were on the other side," all understanding they could not get across the flooded river.

Following a Parent-Teacher Association meeting at 10 o'clock Friday morning, at the elementary school, there will be a Christmas party in each class room starting at 11 a. m. as a last happy gathering of the fall term. Class teachers and room mothers of each unit will be hostesses and pupils of the group will entertain their parents, all of whom are cordially invited to be present at both the P. T. A. meeting and the class party.

EDUCATORS CONFERENCES

W. A. Chessall and Paul Beaufort went to Los Angeles to attend the Educational Conference called by the president of the California Teachers Association last Friday and the State Council of Education on Saturday. Mr. Chessall is a council member and Mr. Beaufort substituted for Miss Shirley Perry as delegate, she being busy with the senior play production at the time of the meetings.

GO FOR AMBULANCE

Paul Poulos, Howard Martin and Kenneth Busch leave today for San Francisco and will bring home the municipal ambulance.

County Auditor and Mrs. P. M. Mathews were in San Francisco last weekend and marooned in getting home.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bucknell were in Ukiah Friday morning enroute from their home in Covelo to Geyserville, where they had to remain until the storm was over.

Willits Cafe Man In Liquor Charge

State Board of Equalization Representatives Tib Fisk and R. L. Elliott arrested Philip Sirizotti, proprietor of Eagle Cafe, Monday night for alleged sale of hard liquor without a license. Mr. Sirizotti, appearing before Police Judge Allan Sacry yesterday morning pleaded not guilty to the charge and posted $250 bail. The case was set for Tuesday, December 21, at 10 o'clock, in Police Judge Sacry's court.

Husband's Threats Caused Separation

Threats against her life and the life of her eight-year-old son are charged against Vincent Vivini in the divorce complaint of his wife, Pauline. They were married at Fort Bragg, December 29, 1921, and separated December 3, 1937. Mrs. Vivini asks to be given custody of the child, with sufficient monthly allowance for maintenance and division of community property amounting to approximately $5000.

Fred Loring was here yesterday from Willits and related details of the storm which has created havoc in his section.

LONG AGO REFLECTION

on the roll of Revolutionary War pensions to take effect from the first day of September 1823.

Advised Of Election.

"Daniel Webster, for the committee appointed for that purpose, yesterday, reported the committee had waited on John Quincy Adams and notified him that, in the recent election of a president of the United States, no person having received a majority of the votes of all of the electors appointed, and the choice consequently devolved upon the House of Representatives, that the House, proceeding in the manner prescribed by the Constitution, did yesterday choose him to be President of the United States." A letter from President-elect Adams then follows in which he accepts the office.

Court Was Discussed.

In the Senate on the following day a large portion of the time was taken up by a discussion of the Supreme Court. This is what some of them said: "Mr. Barbour again arose and entered into an argument to show the superiority of his plan, as it tended to produce equality throughout the union, and contended that his friendship for the people of the west was sufficiently evident.' The west was then Kentucky, Tennessee and Ohio, and is frequently referred to.

Would Live At Capital.

The members of the Supreme Court in those days held district court in various parts of the nation and some representatives thought they should live in Washington all of the time and minor courts should be established in the various communities.

Caring For Indians.

In the House that day most of the time was devoted to a discussion of Indian relations. A bill to appropriate $20,000 for arrearages under the treaty with the Creek Indians and $1000 for the annuity was referred to committee.

Land Values Low.

A treaty had been made with the Cherokee Indians for a tract of land four miles wide and 24 miles in length, containing 63,000 acres, in the state of Georgia, on condition that the Indians were to receive $5000 in cash and an annuity of $1000. It was brought out the land would cost 40 cents an acre and one representative said seven cents an acre was what other tribes had been paid for their lands. President Jefferson was quoted as having said the Indians had a just claim against the government.

A news story tells of a "Public dinner given to Gen. Jackson."

A Gala Dance.

"The Military ball given Thursday night to the officers of the militia, army and navy and marine corps and the volunteer corps of this city was a brilliant fete. The decorations of the assembly room and the splendid supper prepared by Mrs. Brown surpassed anything we have ever seen here. The supper arrangements were so ample 200 ladies sat down to supper at one time. The ball was honored with the presence of the President, Vice-President and their ladies; also by our distinguished and venerated guest, General Lafayette, several members of Congress and other visitors of distinction. The amusements of the evening continued to a late hour, to the unmixed gratification of the company."

The Sordid Side.

"Case of Seduction — At the January term of the court of Common Pleas, New York, the cause of Hopestill Bebee vs. John H. Price, for the seduction of the plaintiff's daughter, came up for trial. After a patient investigation of testimony produced, the case was ably summed up by the counsel for the plaintiff, when the jury retired, and returned with a verdict of $600 damages for the plaintiff, being all the defendant was proved to be worth."

Wanted Young Negroes.

Edward Smith "wishes to buy some likely young negroes, from 10 to 25 years of age, for which he will give the highest cash price."

$30,000 For Navy.

"Defense of Lake Champlain—When the bill making the appropriation for the support of the Navy, for the current year, was under consideration, Mr. Mallory introduced an amendment in the shape of a new section, the subject of which was to appropriate $30,000 for the purpose of procuring materials and building a steam boat of war, for the protection of Lake Champlain. This motion he supported on the ground of the extent of the commerce of the lake, the value of the property on its borders, and the exposed situation of that frontier to the operations of the only power with whom we can ever calculate to come in conflict on the land."

STORM RAVAGE VISIBLE OVER WHOLE COUNTY

District Will Suffer Greatly Through Road Damage

RANCHERS HARD HIT

Almost Nine Inches Of Rain Fell During The Storm

ing were off the breakfast menu. Beyond Willits trains were not moving on the Northwestern Pacific. Train passengers in most cases were transferred to Greyhound stages.

Water Supply Off.

In Ukiah a great deal of annoyance was occasioned when the Municipal water supply was cut off. Housewives arose Saturday morning to find there was no water with which to prepare breakfast. Resort was had to putting buckets under the pipes carrying water from roofs and thus obtaining water with which to make the morning toilet. All day long the water was carried off.

Had No Heat.

Roofs that had been on their good behavior suddenly became sieve-like and this added to the woes of the housekeeper. Downtown business houses and buildings having steam and hot-water heating plants found the plants dangerous because of lack of water.

Feared For Water Tanks.

Kitchen stoves, too, got a setback because fires could not be started in them, the fear being the water in the hot water tanks would be used up and an explosion follow.

County Hard Hit.

Many basements were flooded and road damage in outlying sections was serious. So much road and bridge underpinning was destroyed by the rushing waters, it will cost the county thousands of dollars ,especially in the northern district, already hard hit, to get the roads and bridges in shape to permit their safe use.

Slide Carried Off Rooms.

Mrs. Guy Graves who lives on the L. E. Crawford ranch was putting her two little children to bed Friday night when she heard a sudden roar and almost immediately a slide struck the house. Mrs. Graves snatched the little ones in her arms and dashed from the house into the blinding storm just as the two rear rooms of the house were torn away.

In Sea Of Debris.

Mrs. Graves found herself knee-deep in mud and water and all about her were huge boulders. She managed to get to the home of her brother-in-law on the ranch and Mr. Crawford next day had the rooms rebuilt and the debris cleared away.

A Close Call.

Staying at the city pump too long as the flood waters of Russian river steadily crept up Mrs. George Austin, who Friday afternoon was watching the pumping plant for her husband, and City Electrician Elmer E. Hopper who went to the rescue of Mrs. Austin on a horse, were in a precarious position several minutes. Reaching the pumping plant Mr. Hopper got Mrs. Austin on the horse with him and then started for higher land. A fence had been torn loose and the horse became entangled in the wires and was thrown to its knees, precipitating Mrs. Austin and Mr. Hopper into the rushing, muddy water. By difficult maneuvering Mr. Hopper got the animal back on its feet and Mr. Hopper and Mrs. Austin clung to the horse until they were out of danger.

A Great Benefit.

Directors of the Twelfth District Fair have a 30,000-gallon spring on the Association property and when, through carelessness and neglect, the city failed to supply residents with drinking water during the storm, there were large numbers who went to the Fair Grounds and provided themselves with drinking water from the spring.

Trapped On Road.

Unable to get through because of obstructions encountered along the way 14 automobiles were forced to pull off the pavement between Hopland and Cloverdale Friday night and remain until the storm subsided, the occupants of the machines remaining in the automobiles until daylight when with difficulty, they made their way.

Miles Inundated.

From one end of the Ukiah valley to the other along the lowlands there is an almost continuous lake. Fences have been washed away and, in many instances, great trees or heavy logs which have been on the ground for years have been washed down stream, serving as battering rams to crash down small outbuildings, barns and fences.

Three Mailless Days.

No mail had gotten to Ukiah between Friday and Sunday. A stage leaving Upper Lake for Ukiah made the trip by way of Healdsburg.

Messages Piled Up.

Telephone and telegraph operators were flooded with messages and delayed service, caused by wire trouble in flooded districts, when it started to come in, piled up messages to an unprecedented degree.

Bridge Carried Out.

All along Coyote Valley the orchards and vineyards were filled with debris brought down by the storm. The bridge across Russian river in Cold Creek canyon from the highway to the old Cleveland ranch was taken out.

Hatchery Washed Away.

The Hatchery buildings at Cold creek and the dance pavilion and some cottages at Riviera went down before the rushing waters and portions of the structures are seen lodged in trees and along the banks of Cold creek.

Was The Worst.

Ranchers in Potter Valley report the worst storm in the memory of the oldest resident.

Trees Sheared Off.

As one traverses Cold Creek canyon which had a magnificent growth of trees along the banks of the stream, all vegetation is seen to have disappeared, the waters having washed out the trees, much in the same manner as if they had been sheared off. One could see a mattress, a childs Kiddie Kar and household articles lodged high in the limbs of trees where the rushing waters had left them.

Highway Much Damaged.

It is going to take a great deal of money to repair the damage to the Lake county road, as the waters, along Cold Creek canyon, have undermined the bank at many points where the roadbed is narrow and bulkheading and rip-rapping will have to be resorted to.

Left Great Hole.

At a point near the Square Deal Garage there is a large lake and a huge hole in tne pavement.

Remained On Job.

At Upper Lake Operator Mabel Dodge was forced to remain on duty many hours, being marooned and relief operators unable to get to the Telephone office.

Lost His Property.

Superintendent West, of the State Fish Hatchery at Cold creek, lost all of his personal property.

Ghouls Began Looting.

No sooner had the waters subsided than a number of people appeared on the scene and began carrying off lumber and whatever articles they saw which appealed to their desires. This was especially so in the case of the Fish Hatchery and Superintendent West forced one party who was making off with a truckload of goods, to return them.

Fences Are Gone.

In instances fences for miles were washed away.

Beautiful Gardens Damaged.

In the lower sections of Ukiah debris is scattered along the streets and hundreds of small shrubs and bushes are lying on all sides, indicating the rush of water — It was so strong the small growth were washed from their roots, and carried off by the swirling current.

A Queer Feature.

Great damage was done telephone lines, but, strange to say, hundreds of poles, instead of being carried away, are seen standing in slanting positions with the wires, generally, intact on them.

Veteran Hard Hit.

Down at Largo the bridge, which has undergone repairs for a great many years and which has weathered many a storm, received what is believed a final blow and will have to be replaced. The approaches were badly washed out and the whole structure so weakened the span sagged greatly and it will cost as much to repair it as it will to build a new bridge.

One Vast Lake.

On many stretches along the Redwood Highway within the county the water stood six feet deep. On a high spot on the west side of the valley one could stand and gaze toward Talmage hills and see what appeared to be a lake out of whose waters, here and there, could be discerned what appeared to be a bush, but which, in fact, was the top of a tree.

A Serious Result.

One of the worst features of the storm is the damage done orchards. Thousands of tons of rich top soil has been washed from the floors of orchards and in its place layers of silt remain.

A Turbulent Stream.

Robinson creek early went on a rampage and did its utmost to take out roadbed and bridges. The Flowers and Stitt ranches were overflowed by waters from this source.

Gave Fine Service.

Despite the fierceness of the storm and although trees fell across lines and poles were weakened by logs and debris being thrown against them, the P. G. & E. Co. and the local force of electricians under Chief Electrician Elmer Hopper maintained an almost uninterrupted electric service and but less than one hour during the storm were light and power facilities interfered with.

Slide Came In.

The road to Orr's Springs was closed. A big slide near the water trough came in and caused abandonment of the route. Supervisor Pickle quickly began work of re-opening the artery to traffic.

Crittendon Home Gone.

Waters of Feliz creek canyon rushed down upon the fine country home of W. C. Crittenden, built some four years ago and estimated to have cost in the neighborhood of $20,000, and carried it away. The structure was a total loss and probably represents the largest individual damage sustained hereabouts.

Road Badly Damaged.

Robinson creek waters took their full toll of property destruction. Bridges, fences and cabins were washed away and the road, which property owners in that section had materially improved where it runs through private property, has been washed out in long stretches.

Bridge Was Gone.

Dr. Earl J. Gibson left Ukiah Friday evening and went to his summer home on Robinson creek. Arriving near the house he observed water was almost to the floor of the bridge. He hunted up Charlie Nielsen, caretaker, and started back. By that time it was quite dark. As the car in which Dr. Gibson and Mr. Nielsen came to the site of the bridge and, upon getting to within a few feet of it, Dr. Gibson saw the bridge had gone out. The machine was brought to a stop perilously near the crumbling bank and as they came to a halt Dr. Gibson and Mr. Nielsen saw Mr. Nielsen's cabin come careening down the swollen stream, its galvanized chimney bobbing up and down as it swept past. Mr. Nielsen lost all of his possessions in the cabin.

Went Back For Dog.

Later that night Dr. Gibson went back to his house on horseback and brought in with him on the saddle his little dog.

At Blue Lakes a number of cabins owned by Ukiah residents, the settlement being known as Camp Ukiah, were flooded by the high water and more or less damage done.

Was Out Of Place.

An amusing feature of the storm was the sight presented at the Twelfth District Fair Association grounds Saturday where, entirely surrounded by a lake of water, serenely stood the water wagon used to wet down the track during the racing season.

Leslie Stanley was one of those who had the misfortune to have his car stalled while trying to ford a part of the Talmage road, finally resigning himself to leaving it and wading through two feet of water. Later it was towed to a garage for overhauling.

ISOLATION IS ABOUT TOTAL

Anderson Valley Was Completely Shut Off By The Storm

Special Correspondence of The Press

ANDERSON VALLEY, Dec. 11—This is written Saturday. Anderson Valley is truly isolated this weekend, with all roads blocked and the downpour of rain still continues accompanied by the occasional flash of lightning and the roll of thunder. The Ukiah-Boonville road is impassable. The Cloverdale road was shut off when Dry creek bridge went out and high water closed the coast road out of Navarro. The mail was able to come in from the coast Friday morning and no mail left the valley that day and the mail driver was forced to lay over here instead of returning to Fort Bragg. He called C. L. McKinzey, owner of the Stage line, who phoned the San Francisco office and advised the city of the situation here and the mail car was locked in Live Oak Garage Friday night.

Had To Turn Back.

The stage from Cloverdale had to return there without coming through and took back not only the mail but also the bread supply, hence crackers or hot biscuits are on most menus.

A Record Maker.

According to old-timers this is the heaviest storm and highest water in many years, several families were forced to move out when their homes were surrounded with water from rising streams, among them were the families of Highway Superintendent J. A. Brown, C. A. Fenton and Geo. S. Lawson, on Anderson creek near Boonville bridge, which was taxed to capacity and was for a while in danger of going out. The bridge near Camp Rest Awhile, south of town, was partly taken out, but later repaired to permit travel.

Fences Were Lost.

Nearly all ranches bordering on streams suffered heavy damage to fences, with both picket and wire fences going out, including heavy farm gates of wire and huge gate posts, while on three orchards all the soil was swept away down to the hardpan.

Try To Resume.

The stage line hopes to resume regular schedule by the middle of the week, the only route open being through Comptche from Fort Bragg.

Was Buried Here.

Funeral services were held at Boonville cemetery Monday for Edward DeYoung, a former resident of this place who had been living in Miranda some years. Mr. DeYoung passed away in Lane Hospital, San Francisco, December 5, after a long illness. Many of his old friends here joined relatives at the services and he was laid beside his wife and two children, who occupy a single grave and who were killed in 1906 in the earthquake at Santa Rosa.

Mrs. Julia Gschwend and granddaughter, Mrs. E. Bacci, were business visitors in Ukiah Monday.

Trip Was Delayed.

Mrs. H. Collver, of Lake county, and Mrs. Simpson, of Fort Bragg, are guests at the H. V. Nichols home. Mrs. Nichols and Mrs. Simpson are sisters and the latter came this far with her two sons who were enroute to Ukiah Friday and expected to return for her the following day but road conditions prevented their doing so. Mrs. Simpson plans to return to Fort Bragg as soon as roads are cleared.

Hostess At Shower.

Mrs. Ernest LaMasters was hostess to a group of friends Saturday afternoon at a shower honoring Mrs. Leland H. Farrer at her home in Boonville. Following a social hour and the inspection of dainty gifts refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mother Is Ill.

Mrs. W. W. Holmes, of Hollister, who has been visiting Mrs. Holmes' mother, Mrs. J. C. Lemon, left Friday for San Francisco for medical attention. Her small daughter, Barbara, will remain with her aunt, Mrs. Ernest Farrer at Philo and attend the Indian Creek school during her mother's absence.

In New Quarters.

Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Tretti and Mr. and Mrs. Amedo Pardini have rented the cottage on what was formerly the C. D. Dightman place but which was recently purchased by V. L. Guntly. The cottage will be ready for occupancy by December 15. F. L.
